Uniform Guidance Jeopardy

12/9/2015
The Uniform Guidance combines this many previous government circulars.
What is $3,500?

This is the dollar threshold at which cost comparisons will be required for purchasing goods and services.
What is Participant Support Costs?

This cost became exempt from F&A across all agencies, not just NSF, when the Uniform Guidance went into effect.
What is 10%?

This is the F&A rate that must be given to a subrecipient if the federal program does not have a published statutory F&A rate and they do not have their own federally negotiated F&A rate.
This is the date the Uniform Guidance went into effect
What is July 1, 2016?

This is the date the new procurement standards will go into effect at the University of Minnesota.
What are Visa Costs?

These costs can be direct charged if they are for employees to engage in field research or attend meetings in foreign locations or foreign visitors who come to the University to support the project.
Subaward invoices must be paid within this number of days of receipt
The University is required to submit final reports (financial and progress) within this number of days.
What are publication costs?

These costs can be direct charged to the project after the award end date but before closeout.
What is integral?

The University has determined that this term means:

(1) services are essential, vital, or fundamental to the project AND

(2) a minimum of 1% FTE is budgeted in the grant’s budget year or there are documented special circumstances
What are programmatic reports?

If these are noted as required in the subaward, they must be collected and maintained within the department.
What is reduce fraud, waste, and abuse, and streamline regulations?

These are the (sometimes competing)
goals of Uniform Guidance
This term cannot be found within the Uniform Guidance, but must still be addressed related to compensation.
What is 10 days?

This is the period of time prior to a project end date that an agency must be notified of a no-cost time extension authorized by the University.
What is $150,000?

This is the dollar limit that fixed price subawards cannot exceed.
